TABLE LAMP
WITH GABON EBONY

TABLE LAMP

With this piece, you can define or redefine the mood of an entire interior. When designing, I did not think about the traditional function of table lamps used for reading. It creates an intimate atmosphere with its tiny light raindrop pattern it is a manufacturing feat that it emits light through the veneer on its entire surface.
